Discrimination dilemmas

1. What do you do?

You are going to have a party and have invited all your good friends. You would like to also invite your new friend May who has recently arrived in Australia as a refugee. You know two or three of your friends have said mean things about refugees who come to Australia.

2. What do you do?

You are a member of an all boy baseball team. Your neighbour Carrie is an excellent catcher. Your team needs a good catcher but doesn't like the idea of girls joining the team. You know Carrie wants to play.

3. What do you do?

You are having a party where there will be lots of physical games. You want to invite your friend Sam who is disabled and uses a wheelchair to get around.

4. What do you do?

You have to choose a partner to write a story with. Belinda never has any good ideas and no-one ever chooses her.

5. What do you do?

You are chosen as a leader at games and must pick a team. The same few people are always left until last.

6. What do you do?

You have a friend whose family comes from another country. She always wants to share her lunch with you. The food looks strange.

7. What do you do?

Your friend Peter sometimes has eczema on his hands and nobody wants to hold hands or even touch him when playing.

8. What do you do?

You are planning a day out to the local amusement park. You are allowed to invite a group of friends. You want to invite Jack, but you know he doesn't have a lot of money and that it will be an expensive day.
